

Course: Current Issues in Public Leadership

Trip Around The World Project

Objective: Students will be able to create a webpage that demonstrates their ability to investigate the world and gain perspectives from other countries.

SCALE:
Score 4.0	Students will be able to apply their understanding and include in-depth inferences that go beyond what was taught on researching, recognizing perspectives, and communicating with others.
Score 3.0	<ul style="list-style-type: none">-I am able to identify issues and frame researchable questions of local, regional, or global significance that call for or emerge from investigations in the social sciences.- I am able to recognize and express my own and other's perspectives on situations, events, issues, or phenomena.-I am able to select and use technology and media strategically to create products, express views, and communicate.
Score 2.0	I can do the easy parts of: <ul style="list-style-type: none">-Identifying issues and framing researchable questions of local, regional, or global significance.-Recognizing and expressing my own and other's perspectives on situations, events, issues, or phenomena.-Selecting and using technology and media strategically to create products, express views, and communicate.
Score 1.0	With help, I am: <ul style="list-style-type: none">-Identifying issues and framing researchable questions of local, regional, or global significance.-Recognizing and expressing my own and other's perspectives on situations, events, issues, or phenomena.-Selecting and using technology and media strategically to create products, express views, and communicate.
Score 0.0	Even with help, no understanding or skill demonstrated.

Works Cited: Educating for Global Competence: Preparing Our Youth to Engage the World by the Asia Society